Our Oregon Voice in Electronic Manufacturing

Who We Are...

EMA strives to be the first place electronics professionals go for networking, exchange of ideas, sharing information and educational programs.

Known originally as the Northwest Printed Circuit Association, EMA has served the electronics community for over 25 years. It has evolved along with technology to meet the developing needs of the electronics manufacturing community. Members are people from design, mechanical and manufacturing engineering, purchasing, materials, distribution, sales, quality assurance, and others interested in the industry. Types of companies include final assembly, sub-assembly, cables, plastics, sheet metal, packaging, logistics, components, circuit board fabrication and contract manufacturing.

Benefits of membership include....

- Presentation and factory tours that may help you improve your effectiveness
- Networking opportunities
- Visibility of what's available through local resources
- Opportunity to raise awareness of others about your company
- Access to ideas for problem solving
- A chance to share what you think and know
- Access to presentations and tours at a reduced rate
- Annual OctoberBest-Regional High-Tech Manufacturing Conference & Expo.

AND IT'S INFORMAL AND FUN!

What members receive...

Membership in EMA entitles you to attend educational presentations at no or reduced cost

Corporate members will be listed on the EMA website along with a link to their corporate website.

Announcements are sent prior to each activity via e-mail to all members, giving them the opportunity to plan for the event.

Annual membership appreciation dinner and networking event.
